

TOUR OF THE ISLANDS: Sardinia and Sicily

Italy, a peninsula par excellence, enjoys the heritage of two large islands in its South: Sicily and Sardinia. True and evocative lands, the two islands represent the major poles of international seaside and cultural tourist attraction of our peninsula.

Sardinia, a wild land with its pink beaches, unspoiled naturalistic landscapes and crystal clear waters; has over the years become the jet set of luxury tourism especially in its North: the famous Costa Smeralda. But at the same time it is also known for its history even from prehistoric times. Nuragic archaeological excavations bear witness to the ancient Sardinian Nuragic civilization, unique in the world. A UNESCO World Heritage Site and archaeological sites of immense fascination and charm, they have always attracted visitors and researchers from all over the world.

Sicily, a land also true and lush in its nature, embodies all the typical landscape of the Mediterranean coasts. A lush landscape but at the same time rich in history and culture from every era. From the earliest finds of the Greco-Roman era to the most unrestrained Baroque dating back to the Bourbon dynasties, Sicily knows how to win you over and bewitch you with a complete artistic-cultural and culinary heritage.

A true journey into the commendable Mediterranean of Southern Italy. Unique in the world in its kind and features, it represents perhaps the most lively and unspoiled part of the entire South. A fervid experience that only Italy Camper Tour will be able to give you with the attention to detail that characterizes us, and the passion for our land that we love to convey to all our tourists.
